

THE NORTHERN TRIBUNE

AN INDEPENDENT WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

Published every Thursday at Grande Prairie, Alberta. The Tribune's aim is to thoroughly inform the people of the Peace River valley of all news and to help make known this "Northern Empire" to the rest of the world. All news is given without intentional distortion. The paper's opinions are expressed only in the editorial column.

Letters for publication are welcomed. A person who writes to the Tribune should also sign their proper name, not necessarily for publication, but as evidence of good faith. In publishing a communication, the Tribune does not imply assent thereto with any opinion contained therein.

J. B. YULE, Editor

Subscription Rates:
One Year, in British Empire... $2.00
One Year, in British Empire... 1.25
One Year, in United States... 2.50

Legal and other advertising rates furnished on application.

THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1933

A WRITER OF PROMISE

In this issue of The Tribune, Miss Della V. Fox concludes her interesting story, "Double Whammy." Miss Fox is a student at the Grande Prairie High School and in her literary work demonstrates that she has real ability and understands the technique of writing. In this, her first story, she gives promise of making a career for herself.

Along The Trail

By J. B. YULE

A GOOD TURN AND HOSPITALITY

On Friday last, the Peace River valley with Jimmy Duncan, came to the Peace River to Hyde, returning by way of Valley.

A few miles out of town we picked up a lad from Turner Valley, who was on his way to his home in the Goodfellow district. When it comes to this young man certainly had his share.

He stated that he got a ride from Turner Valley as far as the Peace River. From there he caught a ride to Grande Prairie and then we picked him up. If that isn't playing in luck, we would like to know what.

At Hyde the fishermen were all smiling, the reason being that they were in Beaverley River were litting. But we are getting a little ahead of our story. A short story was told at Albright. This was the first time either of us had ever visited this place. There are only a few buildings—but he said right now it is the cleanest place in the Peace River valley.

R. Stevens runs the store and post office and also buys grain for the Midland & Pacific. At this point, there is a good community hall, which is the heart and part in the social life of the community.

We were informed at Hyde that we could get to Valley by taking the short road from the Peace River. Just one had spot—when we eventually found, to our sorrow, that this "short" way lay in front of the Nepean land. A careful survey of the "short" road was made and we finally decided to go round it. Looks, however, were deceiving and down we went to the running bank. It was a case of get out, and lift, and push, and pull—the valley was not so sufficient power. Two men were working in the big field nearby, which we found out later, belonged to the Nepean family. Assistance was asked and courteously given. Both of us, however, still to an old "Till get one of the horses and we'll tell her out," he cheerfully said.

I have many times noticed that in every four, six or eight-up, a faithful old reliable horse and six-up was no exception and the owner established a big grain business in the going get the horse through the fence, we inquired, "Oh, that's easy," replied K., and with a flourish he took the tale to let it be pulled up over or four posts. The owner of the four estate then stood on the wire and the big grey walked over as if it were a daily occurrence. The chains were used and in a few minutes we had "Bones" on dry land.

With a late spring, time was the essence in seeding. Notwithstanding this, there was a man who put himself out to give assistance to two travellers who would have been in the "grave" spot yet. We wish to publicly and sincerely thank our friend for the help given with a smile. He is a man and a friend in need. May he and his brother have a bumper crop and be able to market it at a good price.

Valley was eventually reached, where we had a chat with the Melville men. While we were there the mail arrived from Death River. The driver, his car could not be said to be a beauty, but when it came to the four estate then stood on the wire and the big grey walked over as if it were a daily occurrence. The chains were used and in a few minutes we had "Bones" on dry land.

At La Glace we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Larson and Albin Hoffman, the latter The Tribune's correspondent for the district. Mr. Larson and Mr. Hoffman were busy leveling off the former's lawn. I asked for a glass of water and was given a glass of milk. Just another word of hospitality from the people in the great Peace River country.

I have known Ed Carney for several years but never had pleasure in visiting him on his farm. We went to see him as our first stop. He took us to his place and we had a chance to take the Carney farm, as the road we were just past his place.

Ed was in the field plowing, but we went to see him. He had some young horses in the turnout and he called "young man" to the man. Duncan was standing some distance away but not introduced. One of the "young men" became very despondent and mistook things up a bit. Ed immediately switched to a language which I although I believe I buy any in, but no more, matches than any in.

STOP LOOKING ROUND THE CORNER AND WATCH THE LIGHTER

It is said that straw shows which are held in the Peace River valley are the most of straw with experience, which seem to bear out the truth.

In good times, if you asked a man to "putch"—which is a habit of mine, although I believe I buy any in, but no more, matches than any in.

Later, we were asked why he did not.

"Don't you ever have a tabloid here?" "I couldn't say, sir. I've been busy two weeks."

—Berliner Illustrirte, Berlin.

the country—you always get a match and invariably a hand. But not so today.

If one asks for a match now, every other man will invariably feel around his pockets and eventually produce some make of a lighter.

Judging from the number of lighters used by the business men in selling for the depression era. There are literally dozens of these things in the country.

To readers of this column we can just keep your eye open for lighters, as they can be taken as a barometer of confidence. Just as soon as the lighters begin to disappear, prosperity is on the way. This hints looking round the corner all happen.

"What's that?" "Lance Jack." Ed scowled and turning quickly replied: "You understand I love my horse."

The Carneys have two children, a boy and a girl. Both of them, like their father, love the noble steed. What struck me was that he had absolutely no fear of the horse, but he had a real love for the animal immediately settled down.

"Carney," who served in the Great War, has named all his horses after army titles, such as Major, Colonel, and so on.

Have you missed one important thing? "What's that?" "Lance Jack." Ed scowled and turning quickly replied: "You understand I love my horse."

The Carneys have two children, a boy and a girl. Both of them, like their father, love the noble steed. What struck me was that he had absolutely no fear of the horse, but he had a real love for the animal immediately settled down.

"Carney," who served in the Great War, has named all his horses after army titles, such as Major, Colonel, and so on.

Have you missed one important thing? "What's that?" "Lance Jack." Ed scowled and turning quickly replied: "You understand I love my horse."

The Carneys have two children, a boy and a girl. Both of them, like their father, love the noble steed. What struck me was that he had absolutely no fear of the horse, but he had a real love for the animal immediately settled down.

"Carney," who served in the Great War, has named all his horses after army titles, such as Major, Colonel, and so on.

Have you missed one important thing? "What's that?" "Lance Jack." Ed scowled and turning quickly replied: "You understand I love my horse."

The Carneys have two children, a boy and a girl. Both of them, like their father, love the noble steed. What struck me was that he had absolutely no fear of the horse, but he had a real love for the animal immediately settled down.

"Carney," who served in the Great War, has named all his horses after army titles, such as Major, Colonel, and so on.

Have you missed one important thing? "What's that?" "Lance Jack." Ed scowled and turning quickly replied: "You understand I love my horse."

The Carneys have two children, a boy and a girl. Both of them, like their father, love the noble steed. What struck me was that he had absolutely no fear of the horse, but he had a real love for the animal immediately settled down.

"Carney," who served in the Great War, has named all his horses after army titles, such as Major, Colonel, and so on.

Have you missed one important thing? "What's that?" "Lance Jack." Ed scowled and turning quickly replied: "You understand I love my horse."

The Carneys have two children, a boy and a girl. Both of them, like their father, love the noble steed. What struck me was that he had absolutely no fear of the horse, but he had a real love for the animal immediately settled down.

"Carney," who served in the Great War, has named all his horses after army titles, such as Major, Colonel, and so on.

Have you missed one important thing? "What's that?" "Lance Jack." Ed scowled and turning quickly replied: "You understand I love my horse."

THE NORTHERN TRIBUNE

AN INDEPENDENT WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

Published every Thursday at Grande Prairie, Alberta. The Tribune's aim is to thoroughly inform the people of the Peace River valley of all news and to help make known this "Northern Empire" to the rest of the world. All news is given without intentional distortion. The paper's opinions are expressed only in the editorial column.

Letters for publication are welcomed. A person who writes to the Tribune should also sign their proper name, not necessarily for publication, but as evidence of good faith. In publishing a communication, the Tribune does not imply assent thereto with any opinion contained therein.

Subscription Rates:
One Year, in British Empire... $2.00
One Year, in British Empire... 1.25
One Year, in United States... 2.50

J. B. YULE, Editor

Legal and other advertising rates furnished on application.

THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1933

A WRITER OF PROMISE

In this issue of The Tribune, Miss Della V. Fox concludes her interesting story, "Double Whammy." Miss Fox is a student at the Grande Prairie High School and in her literary work demonstrates that she has real ability and understands the technique of writing. In this, her first story, she gives promise of making a career for herself.

Along The Trail

By J. B. YULE

A GOOD TURN AND HOSPITALITY

On Friday last, the Peace River valley with Jimmy Duncan, came to the Peace River to Hyde, returning by way of Valley.

A few miles out of town we picked up a lad from Turner Valley, who was on his way to his home in the Goodfellow district. When it comes to this young man certainly had his share.

He stated that he got a ride from Turner Valley as far as the Peace River. From there he caught a ride to Grande Prairie and then we picked him up. If that isn't playing in luck, we would like to know what.

At Hyde the fishermen were all smiling, the reason being that they were in Beaverley River were litting. But we are getting a little ahead of our story. A short story was told at Albright. This was the first time either of us had ever visited this place. There are only a few buildings—but he said right now it is the cleanest place in the Peace River valley.

R. Stevens runs the store and post office and also buys grain for the Midland & Pacific. At this point, there is a good community hall, which is the heart and part in the social life of the community.

We were informed at Hyde that we could get to Valley by taking the short road from the Peace River. Just one had spot—when we eventually found, to our sorrow, that this "short" way lay in front of the Nepean land. A careful survey of the "short" road was made and we finally decided to go round it. Looks, however, were deceiving and down we went to the running bank. It was a case of get out, and lift, and push, and pull—the valley was not so sufficient power. Two men were working in the big field nearby, which we found out later, belonged to the Nepean family. Assistance was asked and courteously given. Both of us, however, still to an old "Till get one of the horses and we'll tell her out," he cheerfully said.

I have many times noticed that in every four, six or eight-up, a faithful old reliable horse and six-up was no exception and the owner established a big grain business in the going get the horse through the fence, we inquired, "Oh, that's easy," replied K., and with a flourish he took the tale to let it be pulled up over or four posts. The owner of the four estate then stood on the wire and the big grey walked over as if it were a daily occurrence. The chains were used and in a few minutes we had "Bones" on dry land.

With a late spring, time was the essence in seeding. Notwithstanding this, there was a man who put himself out to give assistance to two travellers who would have been in the "grave" spot yet. We wish to publicly and sincerely thank our friend for the help given with a smile. He is a man and a friend in need. May he and his brother have a bumper crop and be able to market it at a good price.

Valley was eventually reached, where we had a chat with the Melville men. While we were there the mail arrived from Death River. The driver, his car could not be said to be a beauty, but when it came to the four estate then stood on the wire and the big grey walked over as if it were a daily occurrence. The chains were used and in a few minutes we had "Bones" on dry land.

At La Glace we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Larson and Albin Hoffman, the latter The Tribune's correspondent for the district. Mr. Larson and Mr. Hoffman were busy leveling off the former's lawn. I asked for a glass of water and was given a glass of milk. Just another word of hospitality from the people in the great Peace River country.

I have known Ed Carney for several years but never had pleasure in visiting him on his farm. We went to see him as our first stop. He took us to his place and we had a chance to take the Carney farm, as the road we were just past his place.

Ed was in the field plowing, but we went to see him. He had some young horses in the turnout and he called "young man" to the man. Duncan was standing some distance away but not introduced. One of the "young men" became very despondent and mistook things up a bit. Ed immediately switched to a language which I although I believe I buy any in, but no more, matches than any in.

Later, we were asked why he did not.

STOP LOOKING ROUND THE CORNER AND WATCH THE LIGHTER

It is said that straw shows which are held in the Peace River valley are the most of straw with experience, which seem to bear out the truth.

In good times, if you asked a man to "putch"—which is a habit of mine, although I believe I buy any in, but no more, matches than any in.

Later, we were asked why he did not.

Later, we were asked why he did not.

SWEEPING REFORMS TO BE MADE IN LONDON POLICE

According to a white paper on police reform published in the British capital, sweeping changes in administration and organization of the London police force are expected shortly. Publication of the paper followed sensational charges by Police Commissioner Lord Trenchard of widespread agitation and "insubordination" within the force. The proposals include drastic curtailment of lines which police officers will be permitted to spend at meetings of the Police Federation, the police trades union. This organization was severely criticized by Lord Trenchard. The pictures above show Lord Trenchard on the left, and a group of London "bobbies" standing under the Marble Arch watching unemployed demonstrations.

AVIATRIX AND FOURTH HUSBY

Ruth Elder, who almost flew the Atlantic once, is pictured with her new husband, A. A. Gillespie, movie executive, on their return to Los Angeles from Yuma, Arizona, where their marriage took place. They flew to and from the altar. This makes the fourth marriage for the bride, her previous marital ventures being with C. E. Moody, Lyle Womack, and Walker Camp, Jr., from whom she was divorced last year.

MAY TAKE UP SHAMROCK'S CHALLENGE

The picture shows the launching of the new all-steel racing yacht, "Yeheda," which has been built for Mr. W. L. Stephenson, well known British yachtsman, at Gosport, England. The Yeheda is the first all-steel yacht built in the British Isles. She may be the America's Cup challenger and thus carry on where Sir Thomas Lipton left off in an effort to win back the much-coveted trophy. Yeheda is named after Mr. Stephenson's three daughters, Velma, Sheila and Daphne.

REHEARSING FOR THE ROYAL TOURNAMENT

Here are members of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines rehearsing the grid gun display at White Island in preparation for the Royal Tournament to be held at Olympia, London. Our picture shows four of the team swinging the gun trail across an imaginary thirty-foot chain.

SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

There was great consternation in Ottawa circles when it was reported that Hon. W. D. Herridge, Canadian minister to Washington, had suffered a relapse after undergoing an operation at Ottawa for appendicitis. Hospital authorities report a slight improvement in his condition.

SUSPECT ACQUITTED

James Gavan, 23-year-old Montrealer, who was arrested in Philadelphia for allegedly masquerading in minister's garb recently, and who was identified as the man last seen with Mary Helen O'Connor, Rockaway Park school girl, whose murdered body was found last February, has been acquitted. The body of the girl was found in the woods near Massapequa, L. I.

MRS. HELEN WILLIS MOODY

Despite rumors that she would not compete in championship tennis this year, Mrs. Helen Willis Moody has called her entry for the All England Lawn Tennis Championships at Wimbledon in June and July. It was learned from London. Mrs. Moody announced she will not defend her French title.

GANDHI DISCIPLE

Nila Cram Cook, daughter of the noted author, who has embraced the cause and faith of Mahatma Gandhi and joined his model colony, "Ashram," Miss Cook recently visited the Indian leader in Jorala jail, where she made a "clean confession" of her past life in accordance with the custom of Gandhi followers.

THIRTY PROFESSORS LOSE POSITIONS IN GERMANY UNDER HITLER REGIME

Berlin, Germany.—Opening of the summer semester at German schools and universities under the auspices of the Hitler regime has been marked by the dismissal of thirty professors from Berlin and Cologne universities. Meanwhile the students' federation of the former institution has inaugurated a boycott against Jews remaining on the staff, contending that "the German student resents having the principles of knowledge and thinking set by Jews."

It is the duty of every German student, the federation declared, "neither to enroll in courses nor to hear lectures given by Jews."

Dismissal of the 30 professors, 21 from Berlin University, and nine from the Cologne school, was announced by Bernhard Rust, Prussian education minister.

Bartus: "Boss, will you please pray for my foxin' kidney?" Minister: "What makes you think I can help your kidney?" Bartus: "Well, Boss, last week you was prayin' for loose livers."

Little Isadore Shapiro rushed into the grocery store. Banging a dime down on the counter, he panted:—"Kinnme for ten cents animal crackers but take out the pigs!"

With the Boy Scouts

LET'S HELP THE BOYS TO CAMP!

Family circumstances will this year make it difficult or impossible for many boys to attend a summer camp—the dream of every Canadian boy.

The alternative is knocking around town all summer, with perhaps a rankling grievance against things in general added to the ordinary opportunities for mischief.

Here is a field in which service clubs and other organizations may be able to help immensely, and not in a financial way only. In attics and cellars there may be tents which can be loaned. There may be hunting and fishing cabins and unused summer cottages which could be placed at the disposal of groups of boys under dependable leaders.

Special camp fund entertainments could be given by musical and dramatic societies. A number of these were put on here and there during the past winter for the benefit of Boy Scout troops.

Let's help the boys to camp!

A Trophy for Occupied Bird Houses

The Department of Lands and Forests of Nova Scotia has offered for Boy Scout competition a silver trophy to be awarded the Scout troop having the largest number of occupied bird houses to its credit during 1933 (apartures excepted).

Scouts and Livingstone Memorial

One of the panels of the "Room of Adventure" in the Livingstone Memorial at Blantyre, Scotland, is being contributed to by the Scottish Boy Scouts Association. The panel, painted by Maxwell Miller, will depict the great missionary's perilous voyage from Africa to Bombay in the little ship the Lady Nyasa.

European Politics Do Not Prevent Scouts Fraternizing

Unsettled conditions in Germany do not disturb the Easter tour plans of Kent (England) Scouts. The tour included Nuremberg, Munich, the German Mountains, Eltal and Obermergau. At all of these places they were met by German Scouts, and at Munich and Eltal took part in Scout rallies. Kent County Scouts each year tour some part of the Continent.

If They Ran to Pick Up Someone at the Same Time!

"Two of Great Britain's fastest relay locomotives have been named Boy Scout and Girl Guide. Here's hoping they never try to do a good deed at the same spot at the same time!"—Border Cities Star.

An Easter Service at Peace Portal

Chiefs of various denominations and Canadian and U. S. Boy Scouts took part in the third annual International Easter Service, held at "Peace Portal" on the border between Washington state and British Columbia.

Youth of 32 Nations to Meet

Thirty-two nations in addition to the British Empire have indicated their intention of sending contingents to the World Scout Jamboree this year in Hungary.

McMATH KIDNAPPER

An excellent close-up of Kenneth Buck, of Haverhillport, Mass., confessed kidnapper of 18-year-old Peggy McMath, shown after he had recovered details of the abduction for investigating detectives. Buck is lodged in Haverhill County Jail, where also is his leather Cyril, who acted as intermediary in the ransom negotiations.

GREAT AIR ARMADA TO CROSS NORTH ATLANTIC IN JUNE

St. John's, Nfld.—Italian aviation experts, busy preparing for the great air armada that will cross the north Atlantic in June, announced recently that two submarines and two drifters would arrive here about the middle of this month.

These vessels will act as convoys for the 24 airplanes of the "11th year crusade" along the northern route. The airplanes, scheduled to leave Orbetello late in May or early in June, will fly to Chicago for the Century of Progress Exposition, touching at Amsterdam, Holland; Londonderry, Ireland; Reykjavik, Iceland; Cartwright, Labrador; and Shadish, New Brunswick.

Three advance planes arrived here last week on the liner "Roonald," and as soon as weather permits they will fly to Cartwright to establish a supply base for the flotilla.

Worth Patenting

"So that new girl of yours is lazy?" "Lazy? Why, the other morning I caught her putting papers into the pantries to make them turn over themselves."

Irate Mother (at dinner): "Johnny, I wish you'd stop reading for things. Haven't you a tongue?" Johnny: "Sure, mom, but my arm's longer."

WITH TERROR PAST, THE McMATHS SMILE

Broad smiles are now in order in the McMATH family. The happy smiles of a mother and father, thankful that their child has been restored to them unharmed, and the contagious smile of little Peggy, herself, relieved from the ordeal she endured in the hands of her kidnapers. This picture was made at the Coast Guard Station at Woods Hole, Massachusetts, after the story of the child's return had leaked. A ransom was paid to the kidnapers, who later were captured.

PROFESSOR: "Good gracious! What's the matter?" WIFE: "I really don't know. She's the new girl, and I simply asked her to take the books down and dust them thoroughly every morning before breakfast!"—The Humorist, London.

GRANDE PRAIRIE ALBERTA